STEMEC hosts Natural Science Program Information Session for Undecided Majors

October 12th, 2017

The STEM Education Consortium introduced the Natural Science Program and its benefits to help further student academic and career interests in an information session. Students learned how this major can be tailored to your interdisciplinary science interests. Meet the Program Advisor and Program Director. Get to know about the many academic resources available to Natural Science students. Meet more Natural Science majors in our other program events.

Halloween Movie Mixer for Natural Science majors

October 31st, 2017

The STEM Education Consortium hosted a Halloween movie mixer with the Addams Family as the feature film! Natural Science majors were able to mingle and join together as they enjoyed popcorn and snacks to enjoy the film and Halloween themed environment.
